Cotton Farmers Notified to Vote

Cotton farmers throughout Bulloch county will be receiving notices this week of the national cotton marketing quota referendum scheduled for Thursday, December 15.

On that date, "eligible" voters will go to the polls in every cotton-growing community in the United States to decide if marketing quotas are to be used for the 1950 crop. A two-thirds majority of those voting is required to approve quotas.

The Bulloch county office of the Production and Marketing Administration defines an eligible voter as any person—landlord, tenant, or sharecropper—had an interest in a crop of cotton produced in 1949. Only one vote may be cast by each eligible person; however, even though he may have had an interest in cotton grown on more than one farm.

The referendum notices that were mailed to cotton farmers from the PMA office include a leaflet that answers many of the pertinent questions about the cotton situation and how the marketing quota program would operate.

Mr. M. L. Taylor, county PMA committee chairman, explains that the notices were sent to every KNOWN eligible voter in the county. Any person who believes he is eligible to vote in the referendum and does not receive one of the notices is asked to contact the PMA office in Statesboro.

GEORGIA BAPTIST AND EUROPEAN HOMELESS

The Georgia Baptist Convention Committee on Displaced Persons has set a goal of one hundred family units to be brought into Georgia by June, 1950.

These displaced persons are Europeans made homeless by the war. They now live in camps scattered over Western Europe.

The United States government has authorized the entry of 200,000 of these homeless persons into our country when work and homes are found for them. Displaced persons are qualified as barbers, chauffeurs, mechanics, carpenters, musicians, artists, doctors, nurses, farmers, and domestic servants.

Information on the program may be had from Rev. George Lovell Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church of Statesboro, who is a member of the executive committee of the Georgia Baptist Convention.

Statesboro C. of C. To Elect Officers At Tuesday Meet

Officers for the Statesboro Chapter of Commerce will be named at the regular meeting on Tuesday, Walter Aldred, president, announced last week.

A nominating committee composed of Hoke S. Brunson, Ike Minkovitz and Dr. Waldo E. Floyd, all past presidents, was appointed by Mr. Aldred. The committee was asked to report December 20.

The secretary, Byron Dyer, was asked to work out with the Merchants' Council an agreeable date for a salesmanship course for local clerks and business men and to arrange with the distributive education division of the Georgia State Department of Vocational Education for an instructor during the first of the year.

The business men present voted to finance 100 chicks for clubsters interested in poultry as a 4-H Club project for 1950, with the understanding that the club boys would return to the business men 15 fryers weighing two or more pounds 10 weeks later as pay for the chicks.

President Aldred reported that Emory and Henry College had selected Statesboro for a stopover enroute to the Tangier Bowl. They plan to work out on the local field December 27 and probably spend the night here. The game will be in Orlando, Fla., on January 2. Mr. Aldred warned all eating places to be ready for the bowl-bound crowds this year, and not be caught short as they were last year.

Dr. John Mooney gave the financial status of Bulloch county schools, and was aided by H. P. Womack, county school superintendent, and Dr. Tom Alexander, head of the history department of Georgia Teachers College. The report was not pleasant to look at, but was interesting to the group as a matter of information.

Mr. McLendon states that the program will include descriptive marches, an overture, a descriptive number, "Under the Big Top" by Paul Yoder; a group of Christmas songs, a drum solo by Don Sanders, and several solos by Miss Jean Gailbreath of Waycross.

Miss Gailbreath has been awarded two superior ratings in state music festivals and is probably one of the outstanding student performers on the marimba in the state, according to Mr. McLendon.

Two of the Christmas hymns will be played by the brass choir made up of John Lightfoot, Cary Donaldson, Bob Brannen, Kitty Deal, Payrene Sturgis, Bobby Kingery, Allen Sack, and Guy McLendon Jr.

The concert is free and citizens of this community are invited to attend.

IT'S CHRISTMAS TIME AGAIN!

This morning the weather turned Christmasy. Cold, rainy, dreary—sweet messy.

School is out tomorrow and the kids are free for the time of the year set aside exclusively for them. They return to school Monday morning, January 2.

Christmas trees have been set up in homes. The store windows in Statesboro sing Christmas on every street. Sunday the Band gives its Christmas Concert.

Christmas trees in the school classroom, with exchanging of gifts tomorrow.

Last night the Statesboro Music Club presented its annual Christmas program.

Christmas fireworks are scheduled for the kids at the Community Center on Christmas Eve.

And all little boys and girls being as good as gold—Mama's little helper and Daddy's little angel.

Christmas everywhere.

The whole air at the Christmas tide should be tremendous with joy.

It is time for holy song, for inspired psalm, for scrapbook song. Let joy come still to our homes and hearts.

Christ gives brightness and beauty, gladness and glory, to the whole circle of life and duty.

Come, Lord Jesus, there shall be room for Thee in our homes. Once there was none in the inn, but only in the stable; now our best is Thine. Only honor us with Thy beneficent presence.

Let us away with strife at this season; now is the time to speak kindly words. Let us not carry into the new year the enmities of the old; let not harsh notes of contention come into the heavenly song of peace.

Christ came to give peace, and from Heaven's throne today He bends to give peace to all who trust Him.

He was the only person ever born into the world who had His choice as to how He should come. He might have come man, as did the first Adam; He came a babe.

He inserted Himself into our race at its lowest and weakest point. If He were to lift the race He must get under it.

He glorified the cradle; He beautified boyhood; He sanctified motherhood.

Let's make this Christmas time the happiest ever.

It Was Cold Outside, But the Warmth, Friendliness Inside Made You Forget

You got a crackjack good barbecue supper.
And all for a dollar.

And all the proceeds went into the progress march of Statesboro. More than 125 citizens of Statesboro had supper with the East Side Community Club in their still unfinished Community Center located on U.S. 80 near the cemetery road.

With little heat, under unsealed roofing and unfinished siding and no latch on the door, these citizens ate barbecue, steak, potato salad, corned beef, and drank hot coffee.

And all for a dollar.

And the money goes in to the completion of the Community Center building.

It was the East Side Community's regular supper gathering at which the people on the East Side get together to eat and work on their building. Friday night of last week the citizens of Statesboro were invited to join them and see what they are doing.

The door was opened by W. E. Webb. It was also his job to keep the door, without a latch, closed against the biting cold that night. He greeted you with a cheery little smile with just a smidgen of a bow from the waist. He was just plumb glad to see the folks turn out for the supper. He directed the people to Mrs. Henry Anderson who took up your ticket and allowed you to take a guess for a nickel, at what article had been baked into a beautiful cake. You wrote down in a book your wild

B. T. 'Cap' Mallard Dies at Age of 71

Funeral services for B. T. 'Cap' Mallard, 71, who died in a local hospital Friday evening of last week were held Sunday at 3 p.m. from the Statesboro Primitive Baptist Church with the pastor, Elder V. P. Agan, officiating. Burial was in East Side Cemetery.

Mr. Mallard was long prominent in Bulloch county affairs, having twice served as sheriff, one two-year term and two four-year terms, retiring from office some twenty years ago. In recent years he has been actively engaged in farming.

So you said how much they were doing for the young folk and for the community and found a table and ate your barbecue. It had to be good for Bonnie Morris had barbecued, free, the pig F. C. Parker Jr. had given the club. And Mrs. Webb's seed matinee and Bonnie ever made. And Clausen's and Holman's bread tasted just as good as they say.

And Mayor Cone wrote a letter saying he was sorry he couldn't be there.

It mattered not that it was a little arish . . . you ate with your own eyes.

There was a warmth about the place that does not come from fire or heaters . . . but from the association of people with an idea and a goal and determination.

To do something for their children . . . and for themselves.

Watch for the next East Side Community Club supper.

C. Innan Dekle is the retiring Worshipful Master. R. L. Cone Jr. is retiring St. Warden, and George C. Hagin is retiring Jr. Warden.

A turkey supper will be served from 8 to 9 p.m. by the ladies of the Statesboro Chapter Order of Eastern Star.

Mrs. H.V. Franklin Wins State Living Room Prize

Mrs. H. V. Franklin, of the Register community, has been named state winner in the Georgia, 1949, living room improvement contest, sponsored by Rich's Inc., Atlanta.

Rich's presented Mrs. Franklin with a $200 gift certificate at a luncheon in the Magnolia Room yesterday honoring the state winners in the living room and kitchen improvement contests.

Mrs. Franklin's son, H. V. Franklin Jr., her daughter, Mrs. Ward Morris of New York City, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Carl Franklin, were with her at the award presentation. Miss Irma Speers, county home demonstration agent, and Miss Dot Johnson, assistant, were also present at the luncheon.

Mrs. Franklin financed her living room improvement work by growing and selling vegetables and herbs. She developed the hobby of growing these plants when her children were away at school and she now sells approximately 50 varieties of vegetables and herbs.

Sh. V. Franklin Jr., president of the Register Farm Bureau, helped his mother in remodeling the living room in their home. He did all carpentry and woodwork and Mrs. Franklin did all the drapes, slip covers, and painting. And she admits, with a smile, that "Maybe I did help H. V. a little with the hammer and saw."

In describing the work on the project she says: "Our old living room was 16 by 16 feet with a ceiling 10 feet high, and there were two small windows in the room."

"The improved living room was extended over an eight-foot porch adjoining it and is now 28 feet by 16 feet. A picture window 10 feet wide and five feet high replaced the two small windows on the west side and now furnishes plenty of light throughout the room."

"The flooring was unlevel in the old living room and had to be raised three inches in one corner. This floor was left for subflooring and a new oak floor was placed over it."

More than 300 Georgia farm women competed in the state contest.

Mrs. Franklin has been a member of the Register Home Demonstration Club and is now the club's president. She is an active church leader and a member of the Register Good Neighbor Club.

Father Smith Thanks Givers

In a statement made this week, Father Ed Smith, pastor of St. Matthews Church on Savannah avenue, expresses his gratitude to the business establishments in Statesboro who contributed to the fund for the new St. Matthews Church.

He said, "The building fund drive for the beautiful St. Matthews Church on the Savannah highway has been very successful. The new church will serve as an attraction to the many Catholic tourists who come through Statesboro."

He continued, saying, "In order to avoid any misunderstanding or unauthorized soliciting of funds for the building we wish it to be clearly understood that only the committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. R. L. Cone Sr., with Mrs. Harry Sack, Mrs. Emory Allen, Mrs. E. L. Preterius, and Mrs. Donald Hackett as members, has been authorized to accept contributions. Absolutely no private individuals have been or will be asked to contribute to the fund."

In conclusion he stated, "The members of St. Matthews Church wish to express their heart-felt thanks for the wonderful response of their neighbors in Christ."

Pilots Pull Upset Out of Bag to Lick Bull Dogs 13-0; Play Red Caps Today

In the football upset of the year in the Junior League of Statesboro the third-place Pilots pulled one out of the bag and set the second-place Bull Dogs on their heels to the tune of 13 to 0, eliminating the coiffed Deal and John Deal Braswell team Legion Trophy race.

Today the Pilots will play the undefeated Red Caps. If the Pilots should win the game they will have to play another game. If the Red Caps win, the trophy is theirs.

Lamar Underwood and Gene Newton each scored for the fighting Pilots. The Bull Dogs scored early in the game when Jimmy Jones passed to Bobby Steptoe, but the touchdown was called back because of an offside penalty.

PHILATHIA CLASS HAS CHRISTMAS PARTY

The lovely home of Mrs. T. E. Rushing, with artistic Christmas arrangements throughout the rooms thrown together for the occasion, was the scene of the annual Christmas party of the Philathia Class of the First Baptist Church.

The mantel in the living room was transformed into the Little Town of Bethlehem, complete with chapel and homes, fir trees and snow, and the manger scene with its animals. There were the Star and the Wise Men and the Babe in the Manger. Clouds floated over with tiny angels in them. The dining room table, overlaid with lace, had a pillow arrangement of angel hair at one corner, with lovebirds, red berries and silver foliage and "Christmas," spelled out in silver, was illuminated by silver candles in low silver candelabra. The mantel in the dining room showed Santa and his reindeer racing over snow clouds and ice-capped mountains. Innumerable white reindeer and fir trees were used in this scene.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Frank Olliff, Mrs. Wallis Cobb, Mrs. Arnold Anderson and Mrs. George Groover. Class members exchanged gifts. A party plate was served to about forty members of the class.

R. A. Macon, of Atlanta, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Macon, last week end.
